ROUGHING IT LIKE ROYALTY

Known for its world-class golf and the Jim Flick Golf Performance Center, DESERT MOUNTAIN has added another luxury activity to its long must-try list: luxury camping, also known as "glamping." As part of The Ranch at Desert Mountain, which was launched in November, the "outback" hosts canvas-covered tents with redwood floors; a wood-floored front porch or landing; a desk area; a bath/shower with running water, plush towels, soaps and lotions; and full-size beds with comfortable mattresses for members, families and their guests to call home for the night. Glamping families also get to savor chef-prepared meals during this unique experience. The Ranch encounter is rounded out with new horse corrals and a stable for riding lessons and guided, private horseback rides, and a 15-mile private trail system bordering the Tonto National Forest for mountain biking and hiking.
